Children today have lots of questions. They see and hear so much on issues relating to science and medicine. And, kids seem to have a natural knack for asking the obvious as well as the obscure about these things!

NO KIDDING! is a radio commentary series on health, family, and environmental issues whose moderator is Miss Christine Whelan, age 8. Christine's guests are some of the nation's leading physicians and scientists who answer her questions about dieting, alcohol use, cigarette smoking and other drugs, dying, divorce, nutrition, exercise, automobile safety and more . . .

NO KIDDING! commentary questions by Christine offer a unique perspective for your listeners on health issues. They can relate to these issues as seen through the eyes of a child—a child who absorbs a maze of information derived from schoolmates' chatter, television, parents' conversations, etc.—sometimes conflicting information on how to pursue good health and live healthy lives.
